

Precious Traditions

This resource contains objects from our world cultures collection that represent enduring traditions around the world. Many of these traditions are hundreds of years old and all are still an important part of everyday life.

The resource has been developed to illustrate different traditions and crafts around the world, and what they can tell us about the way of life of other cultures. It includes a book of pre-planned activities and an information card for each object. This is all packed in a conservation standard museum case.

This resource was developed by Illuminate, the young people's curators group at Nottingham City Museums and Galleries, in conjunction with community groups in Nottingham and museum staff. It was created as a response to Unravelled, an exhibition at Nottingham Castle of Chinese silk objects that was developed by Illuminate as part of the London 2012 Cultural Olympiad.

The activity pack and supporting information contains activities and information that can be used to meet the requirements of the national curriculum for English, art and design, history, geography and drama at KS1 to 3.
